

I am an avid radio listener. I recently subscribed to XM Radio and use it in my home. I am opposed to restricting satellite radio use of local traffic and weather content. This type of restriction of local channels did not work well for satellite TV and I see no reason to make the same mistake with subscription radio.